

Interdisciplinary Computer Science Careers

Computer Science easily blends with other majors and interests. New advances in Computer Science are revolutionizing everything from finance to medicine to the arts. Computer Scientists currently enjoying interdisciplinary careers will discuss their experiences and share their views on the seemingly limitless potential of computer science in industry and government.

- Date: Friday, March 27, 2009
- Time: 2:00 – 3:00 pm
- Location: University of Pittsburgh
Sennott Square
Room 2400
- Format: Panel discussion with audience Q&A
Part of 9th Annual CS Day event (see <http://www.cs.pitt.edu/CSDay>)
- Audience: CS faculty, staff, graduate students, undergraduate students
- Moderator: Mark Shozda, Bank of New York Mellon
Chief Technology Officer – Wealth Management and Banking
- Panelists: Derrick Brown, National Cyber-Forensics and Training Alliance
Chief Technical Officer
- Ian Volkwein, Sim Ops Studios
Software Engineer
- Jess Nebgen, MEDRAD, Inc.
Senior Software Engineer
- FBI Special Agent*