Research Competition

Graduate students compete for the honor of the best research award. Sponsored by Compunetix.

Marketplace

Local and international high-tech firms share information about career opportunities. Hosted by the CS Graduate Student Organization.

Scavenger e-Hunt

Compete for prizes by visiting marketplace booths as prompted by a kiosk.

Poster Competition

Posters of undergraduate projects and graduate research compete for multiple awards courtesy of the Department of Biomedical Informatics.

Speakers

Two featured speakers: John Taylor, one of the creators and engineers of Google Sky Map (<http://www.google.com/mobile/skymap>) and Ryoichi Hasegawa from SEGA, who has been involved for the last 18 years in bringing Japan's video games to western markets and vice versa.

Digital Media Competition

Students, faculty, and staff show Video and Graphic clips of life in Computer Science. Winners will receive a prize courtesy of Highmark.

Business Idea Competition

Submit your innovate business ideas and win money (plus coaching on how to turn your idea into a real business). CEI, a member of the Industry Board, will sponsor a prize for the winner.

Computer Science Social

A social for industry representatives, alumni, faculty, graduate students, and staff will be held at 4:30pm in 5317 Sennott Square.
