BACK STORY

- Unbeknown to the general population, cloud shapes make the world a more happy though the use of subliminal messages.
- Sir Patrick Stratus, Orchestrator at the Cloud Factory, has been in charge of the production of clouds since anyone can care to remember, but his dedication and service has gone without appreciation for far too long.
- Disaster strikes, morale drops! The world falls into a deep recession of depression.
- Can the player restore happiness in the world with minimal knowledge of the process?!
